

One year of Ishani

Report at a glance

Ishani endeavours to serve as a bridge of understanding between the North East and the rest of the country. While it showcases the rich cultural heritage of the region, it has also attempted to provide information on the socio-economic and political development in the region. Ishani aims at propagating the ideals of peace, truth, non-violence and co-operation, and reflects the views of the people of the North East.

The Mahatma Gandhi Ishani Foundation is striving to evolve Ishani as the window to the North East. During one year of its existence, it has carried thought-provoking articles by highly acclaimed academicians, scientists, engineers and social activists. The feedback received from well wishers has been encouraging and, has, indeed, motivated the small group behind Ishani.
